About the dietitian...

Glenna Moe MS, RD, LD

Glenna has her BS & her MS from the University of Missouri-Columbia. She is a registered and licensed dietitian. She has worked as a computer systems dietitian, university instructor, and as a consultant in nursing homes and schools. She has a private consulting practice serving individuals, athletes, businesses and faith based organizations. Currently she is employed in the Saint Luke's Cardiac Rehab Program and the Executive Health Management Program while maintaining her part-time private practice. Her passion, besides her family, is helping people learn how to nourish their body and soul using healing foods.
