

Inpatient car seat checks are performed at Saint Luke's Health System hospitals in Kansas City Metro area.

The Registered Nurse, in the hospital, checks your car seat for recalls, asks about crash history of seat, looks at fit of baby in seat and provides education.

If your baby is premature or has a lower birth weight, a car seat test will be done with baby in car seat, to make sure the baby can tolerate sitting in the seat in the correct position.
